

Refill my heart

You call me your mother, you call me your wife
Well don't you bother, I'm all at your side
Someday you'll tell me your lies, tell me secrets
'cose I don't want you to walk on alone

Come fuel up the car, we're heading up north
Don't you forget to take your books and your words
Fill up the tank, we need silent water
And don't you forget to take what you love

It might be hard to keep up believing
You might lose a lot but you can win so much
Now this man he's empty, he tried every road
And no-one but you can refill his heart
Yes no-one but you can refill my heart.
